

Energy Institute at Texas Christian University

Undergraduate Endowed Scholarship

in honor of all Independent oil and gas producers who led the development of unconventional shale resource systems

The Jarvie Family Geoscience Scholarship is provided to aid undergraduate students to receive financial support to earn an education at Texas Christian University. This scholarship is made in honor of all the Independent oil and gas companies who led the development of unconventional shale resource plays. As such it is directed toward any student whose principal field of study is in geosciences.

Contact Ken Morgan (k.morgan@tcu.edu) at Texas Christian University for more information.